Online School of Criminal Justice Overview

A traditional, ground-based Bachelor's degree in criminal justice was offered for several years at the University X, but was discontinued for a period of about three years. The University X determined to reopen the undergraduate program. To develop the new program, the University X used the innovative online delivery method, the online School of Criminal Justice (OSJC). The OSJC has the same educational mission as the University X and aspires to meet the needs of the students who are unable to come to campus. The OSJC will provide online courses. The OSJC will develop new courses while utilizing existing University courses. The OSJC is committed to the vision of the University X.

The OSJC is committed to the mission of the School which is in line with that of the University X. The OSJC will develop strategic relationships with external organizations and institutions to contribute to the overall mission of the University X. The OSJC will provide academic services and support to students that are consistent with the University X's mission and its commitment to academic excellence.

The OSJC will provide academic and support services to students that are consistent with the University X's mission and its commitment to academic excellence.

Director of Technology

Director of Faculty

Director of Policy and Planning